FOREWORD

The high school years are stages of growth and transition. The direction and form in which the individual grows greatly depends upon his high school. Through athletic, scholastic, and social activities Sterling High School is dedicated to developing the individual. During the years 1963-67, the addition of new athletic teams and facilities, the expansion of curriculum, and the institution of Homecoming as an annual social event have made it possible for more students to be a part of life at Sterling.

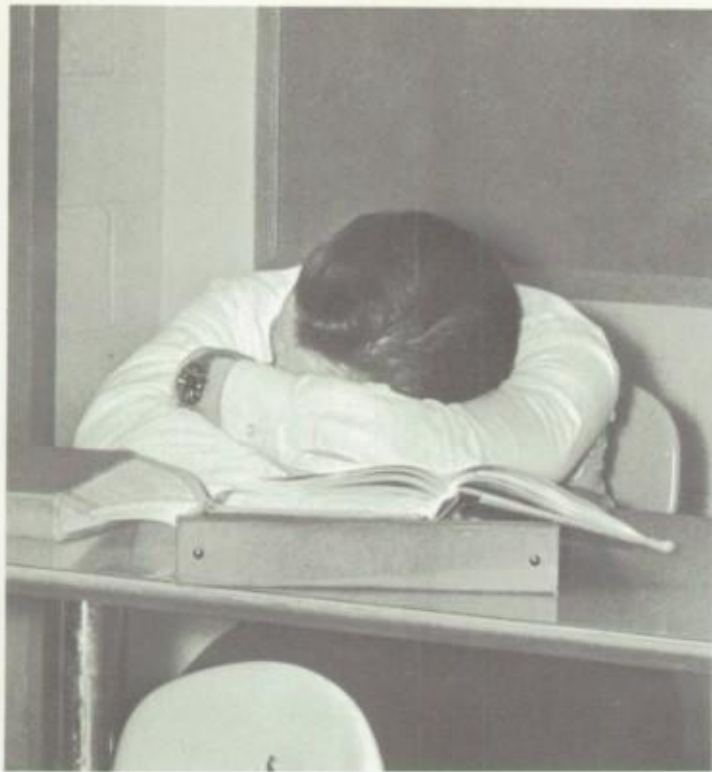

Growth has been evidenced in still another form. In 1964 an addition was made to the building and in 1966 new land was acquired to meet the growing enrollment. This physical expansion has resulted in one of the finest high schools in the area. To the growing students of a growing high school we present the 1967 ACCOLADE.

The ACCOLADE Staff

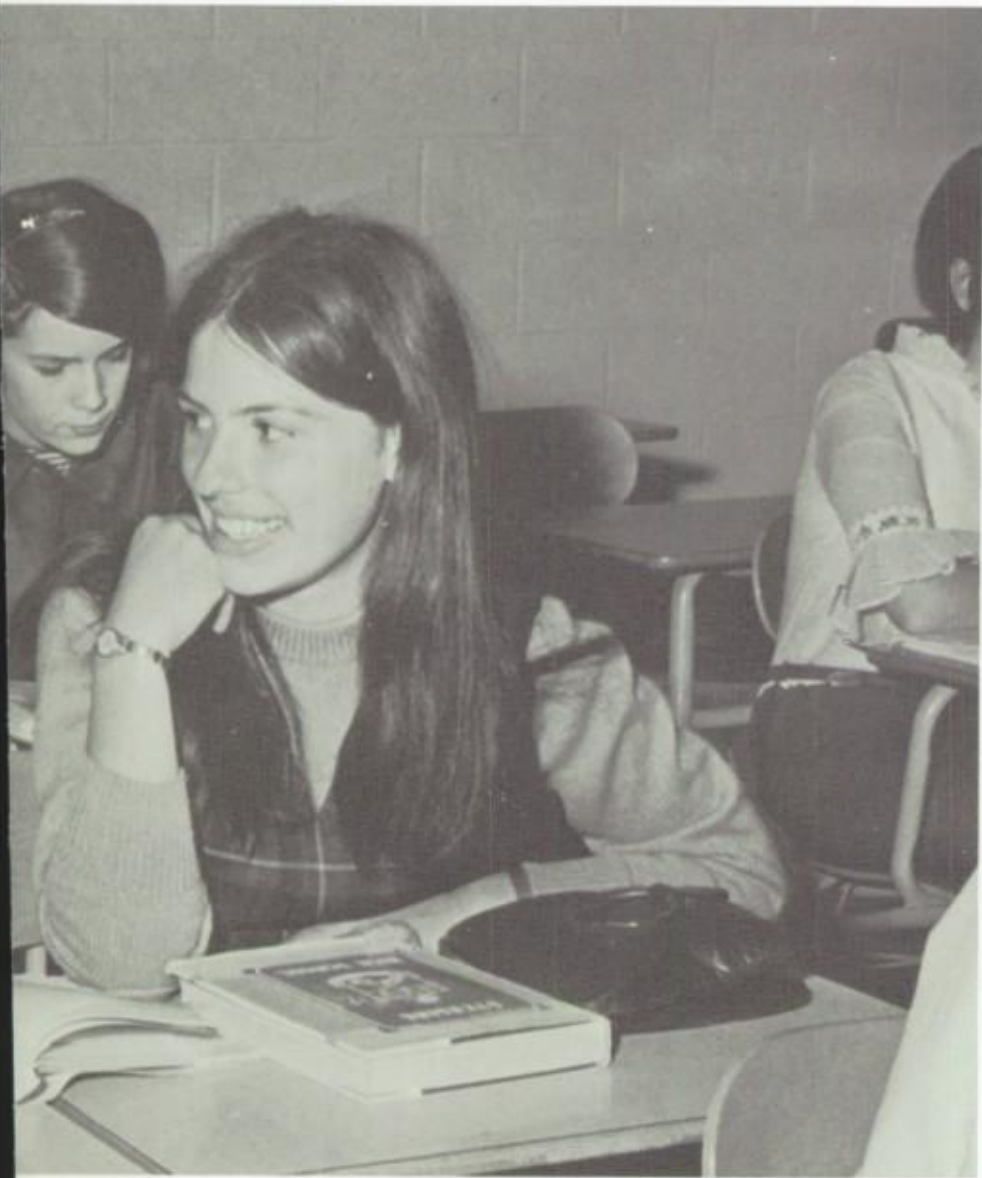

In addition to academic education S.H.S. offers a variety of practical education in business and the arts.

Outside the classroom we participated in many activities, such as dances, pep parades, the Spaghetti Dinner, and Senior Day.

We displayed great enthusiasm in all sports throughout the year.

JO ANN LEASURE

We dedicate the 1967 ACCOLADE to

As our advisor for two years, her enthusiasm and personality combined to instill in us a spirit which was reflected in the achievements of our class. Her special brand of humor saw us through many trying situations as we created "Fantasia," prepared a spaghetti dinner, journeyed to Washington, and, finally, graduated. She has also found time in the six years she has been at Sterling to coach girls' hockey, basketball, and softball teams.

two people who are themselves dedicated.

For six and a half years he has served Sterling High School as Athletic Director, constantly striving for a well-rounded sports program, good sportsmanship, and a healthy school spirit. During these years, he has further developed these aims and has brought victory and success to the Silver Knights as basketball coach. He is the first member of the teaching staff to be elevated to an administrative position and has successfully executed his duties as assistant principal.

We congratulate the Class of 1967 on their many achievements through the past four years at Sterling High and on this occasion of graduation.

It has been the Board of Education's desire that all the necessary fundamentals of education have been presented to you properly, in preparation to meet the many challenges which shall be experienced in the future of this highly technical society.

Principal
GEORGE L. FUNK

To the Class of 1967 —

Congratulations upon successfully completing your high school program. You must continue to learn if you are to be an effective and contributing influence in our society.

Your heritage is freedom of choice, and I sincerely hope that you enhance this heritage by accepting challenge with confidence and understanding.

There are many concepts of living. A truly successful philosophy of life should incorporate happiness, respect for your fellow man, and continued growth toward your goals in life.

Assistant Principal

To the Class of 1967 —

You and your classmates are to be commended for your spirit and dedication, over the past four years, toward your school and your task of preparing for a future in these uncertain times.

Someone once said, "The primary purpose of education is not to teach you to earn your bread, but to make every mouthful sweeter." You who took advantage of the entire program offerings should be looking toward the future with enthusiasm and "sweet" success should be just a matter of time.

Again our congratulations on reaching this important milestone in your life.

GUIDANCE

The Guidance Department is helpful in placing future graduates in the field of their choice. The department is headed by Mr. Stubits, who is Senior Counselor.

Each class has its own counselor designated to aid troubled students through interviews. If a student wishes to find a job, either part-time or full-time, the Guidance Department finds out what type work is requested by the student and then goes about setting up interviews with various firms.

The Guidance counselors also help the student find the college of his or her choice. They question the student as to what field of study he would like to enter and help him fill out application forms.

The problems of the students are alleviated by the wisdom of the Guidance personnel.

SOCIAL STUDIES

This year, under the guidance of Miss Werkheiser, many changes have occurred in the Social Studies Department. Geography is now a study of the non-Western world from a cultural approach. Modern World History, a study of the history of the world and its influence on present day affairs, is now required for Sophomore academic students. U.S. History I and II, which concentrates on the history and government of our nation, have been required of Juniors and Seniors in the past. Miss Werkheiser has instituted many new ideas, including her new method of teaching. This method helps the student to appreciate the strain on politicians and the people of a nation, because there is no definite solution to any problem in world affairs.

ENGLISH

Under the capable leadership of Miss Kelly, the English Department has undertaken a revision of the curriculum with a view toward developing greater articulation and scope and sequence.

Literature and writing are emphasized in the Academic course while the Secretarial course creates better grammar, letter writing, and spelling. The General course stresses skills in reading and writing which are necessary to prepare the student for the world after high school.

An extra activity offered to Juniors is the English Seminar which furthers their knowledge in reading and literature. Trips to McCarter Theatre at Princeton were taken this year by both Juniors and Seniors. These plays aided the students' understanding of their reading after seeing it done by professionals.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

In order to aid the students acquiring an education in the field of business, the department, under the direct supervision of Mr. Dante Marguglio, has expanded greatly. The department continues to offer courses in Bookkeeping, Stenography, Typing, Secretarial and Clerical Practice, besides the usual social business subjects of Business Law, Sales, and General Business. Additional dictating equipment has been obtained this year in order to provide the students with as much practical experience as possible.

The department has adopted two new programs, Distributive Education and a Cooperative Education Program, directed by Mr. William Sarkas. Distributive Education trains students for a career in retailing, wholesaling, and service establishments. It will help them to achieve positions of supervision and management, and to successfully operate their own business.

The Cooperative Office Education Program prepares students for specific business occupations in the secretarial, clerical, and accounting fields. It enables the student to attain a proficiency sufficient to meet the demands of a business office and instills a desire for quality work.

SCIENCE

The Science Department, under the direction of Mr. Taylor, is one of the most diversified and advanced departments at Sterling. The various courses offered include General Science, BSCS Biology, General Biology, Chemistry, Physical Science, Academic Physics, PSSC Physics, and Earth Science. Students of these courses conduct exciting and extraordinary experiments. When not in the lab, the physics students can often be found experimenting with "slinkies" in the corridors. Students can also learn how to operate the computer. The young biologists dissect crayfish and perch. These same students can be found peering into microscopes and sketching bacteria and plant cells. You can always tell a Chemistry student by his safety glasses. These "amateur" chemists must take every precaution when studying the behavior of the elements.

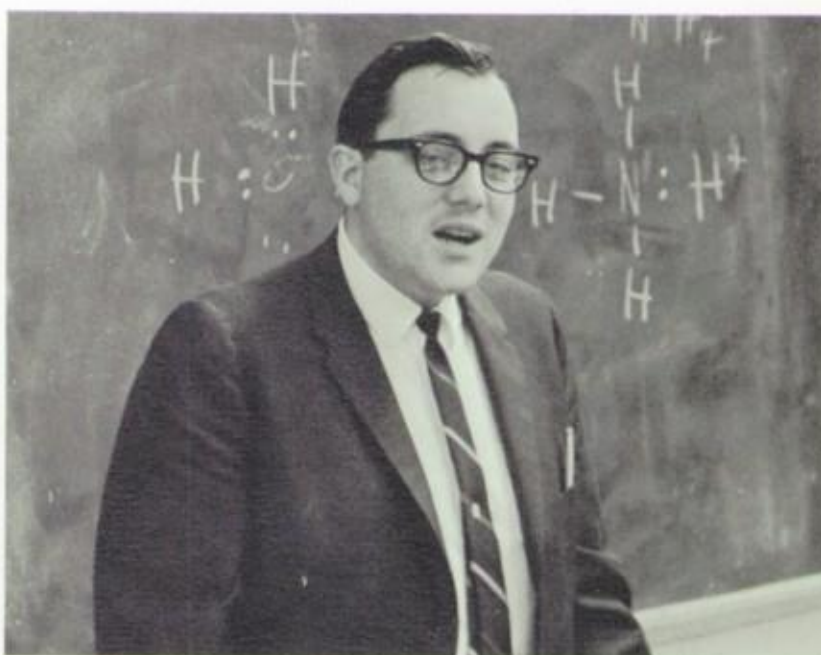

The Science Department is in the process of updating its curriculum. They are now making the General courses more lab orientated. The Academic curriculum now contains two National Science Foundation courses, PSSC Physics and BSCS Biology.

MATHEMATICS

The Mathematics Department is under the guidance and supervision of Mrs. Heald. For Academic students, Freshman have Algebra I and advance to Algebra II in their sophomore year. Juniors have Geometry and college-bound Seniors find it advisable to take Math 12. The Senior course is comprised of advanced mathematics and trigonometry. There are also general and business math courses which are designed for the non-collegiate student. These courses enable the student to have a general, but solid, foundation in mathematics.

Seniors are offered a Math Seminar to strengthen their background and prepare them for college mathematics.

LANGUAGE

The Language Department with courses in Latin, French, Spanish, and German is headed by Miss Daniels. The teaching method this year is a combination of the traditional and new methods with recorded dialogues, oral participation, and audio-visual aids.

A few field trips were taken this year. Miss Pontarelli took her French classes to the Philadelphia Art Museum. The Spanish classes, with Mr. Townsend, went to Philadelphia to see the musical The Man From La Mancha.

Probably the most important event in the Language Department, especially for the Spanish students was the arrival of twenty students from Argentina, who came to live here for two months. Their purpose in coming was to observe life in the United States.

HOME ECONOMICS

Throughout the Home Economics curriculum efforts are made to prepare students for successful personal and social living; to develop capabilities in each girl that will enable her to become a more satisfactory homemaker; to present opportunities for students to learn by doing and to recognize the carry-over possibilities in home living; and to enable the student to meet the challenges of new trends which are a result of the latest scientific developments.

Child care and development, foods, nutrition, clothing, textiles, personality, home nursing, and family health are the areas covered by this program. Next year the department hopes to expand by adding a vocational home economics program.

LIBRARY

The library provides books, magazines, and other materials to supplement classroom instruction as well as materials for leisure reading. Available to the student is a vertical file of pamphlets, clippings, and pictures on various subjects. Filmstrips and records are provided by the library to teachers for classroom use.

The library members work with interested students and classroom groups to teach them how to use the library effectively and is open two evenings a week for the residents of the local communities.

The library is expanding by beginning a file of flat, still pictures for use in classrooms and on bulletin boards. They also have book fairs to afford students a chance to buy inexpensive paperback books for themselves.

Remember that "the good reader makes the good books" —

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

The Industrial Arts curriculum is designed to prepare students to enter industry with a good background in working with their hands and in using certain power tools.

The wood shop course is taught by Mr. Lynch, who is also chairman of the Related Arts Department. Mr. Daniel teaches the metal shop classes. In these courses special attention is given to teaching the care and maintenance of hand-operated and machine-powered tools. There is also a mechanical drawing course, taught by Mr. Hunt. The aim of this course is to teach students the art of drafting, which is useful in engineering and other related occupations after the completion of high school.

DRIVER EDUCATION

Driver Education, which is taught by Mr. Croud and Mr. Bella, prepares the Junior or Senior student for the dangers of the highway. It stresses lawful and safe driving which is necessary to each student.

Behind-the-wheel driving offers further capable and professional instruction to the student. This experience helps the student pass his state driver's test and prepares him for unsupervised driving.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Physical Education Department, which is headed by Mrs. McGeoy, is probably the most exciting department and, to an extent, the favorite of all students. This is not saying that it does not require hard work and the use of, at times, underdeveloped muscles.

The department's main goal is to develop good physical health, involving coordination and improvement of ability in various sports. The activities undertaken include the usual sports of football, basketball, volleyball, baseball, square dancing, wrestling, gymnastics, and, new this year, modern dancing. It is quite evident that this department is instrumental in several areas.

ART

The Art curriculum, taught by Mrs. Morgan, has been expanded this year to include an art major course for talented students who are seriously thinking of art as a profession. They receive work comparable to the college freshman plus homework assignments, term papers, art history, and weekly assignments. Christmas cards were again designed by the students and judged by the Board of Education to be sent as their greetings this year. Many hours were put into hand-printing almost two hundred cards. The Art Department also paints the scenery and helps with props for the Senior Play, prints advertisements on their press for the students and faculty, and is helpful in making posters and decorations for activities. It is hoped that the students will become familiarized with a large variety of media and enjoy and become aware of fine art as one integral part of education.

MUSIC

The instrumental area of the Music Department, under the direction of Mr. Maxwell, entertains at various assemblies, pep rallies, and at many other school activities. Concerts are also given to celebrate the holiday season. Students spend many hours practicing and preparing for their many performances. Whether it be on the football field or in concert, the instrumental section strives for perfected tone qualities, precise rhythm, and a smooth blend.

The vocal section of the Music Department, supervised by Mrs. Pennington, also performs at school assemblies and concerts. In addition, they sang at the Moorestown Mall during the Christmas season this year. The department's main objective is to establish the idea that there is pleasure in singing and to involve all interested students in one of their programs such as the Chorus, Chorale, or the Quartet. The students also strive for a good vocal technique that will produce a lively and interesting sound for their performances.

HEALTH SERVICE

Mrs. Phillips keeps her days busy by caring for students who become ill or injured and listening to their problems with a sympathetic ear. She helps in administering T.B. tests to all students and physical examinations for Sterling athletes. Other jobs which fill her schedule include taking care of insurance and accident reports.

As SENIORS, we evaluate our success from these challenging years, 1963-1967, and

The class of '67 brought to an end their reign as Seniors on June 14, 1967. It was an end of four fun years but also an exciting beginning for the college and career bound. However, the years we spent at Sterling will not be easily forgotten. How could we forget the 4:30 P.M. classes our freshman year or the smell of fresh paint in the new addition which greeted our sophomore year? The excitement of our basketball team playing for the state championship during our junior year will be remembered for a long time. Senior year kept us busy selling six thousand pretzels at the football games, taking orders for Christmas cards, serving at the Spaghetti Dinner, selling tickets for the Senior Play, calculating personal credit, and of course, "letting loose" on the Washington trip. Last, but not least, we will always remember the feeling of excitement which we experienced when we received our diplomas. Now we look forward with anticipation to new experiences and the fulfilling of goals bigger than ever.

The class of '67 would like to thank our advisor, Miss Jo Ann Leasure, for the help and assistance she has given us and for her patience and good humor which made our senior year so enjoyable.

"We're the class that's really hep,

Tiny little simpletons hanging from a tree . . . Betty Tait, one of many active seniors, worked on the prom committee and in the refreshment stand home games. Karen Sechtin, our class treasurer, is always kept busy with the Senior Senate. A member of the National Honor Society, Judy Turner, is also the Faculty Editor for the ACCOLADE. Lilly Terrill, one of the hardest workers in the senior class, worked in the refreshment stand and is Music and Amusements Editor of the Silver Scroll.

We're the class that's full of pep,

We're the class that's bound for heaven,

We're the class of '67!"

JUNIORS Attain Honors in Athletics and

When the Class of 1968 returned to Sterling this September, they gradually assumed the leadership and responsibilities that are synonymous with Upperclassmen. With vigor and renewed dedication the Juniors began preparations for their two final high school years with plans for both individual achievements and class success. Mrs. Ann Marie Knapik was chosen Junior-Senior advisor and expertly guided the officers and Junior Cabinet through the class' most successful year yet.

An eager active unit in the Sterling community, the Juniors immediately launched a series of fund-raising activities ranging from selling football programs, sponsoring a winter candy sale, operating the refreshment counter at home basketball games, and supplying the traditional mum corsages for the Thanksgiving Day game.

Socially the Juniors really excelled, sponsoring the "Soul Sound of '68" and a spring dance, both of unprecedented success. The traditional Junior-Senior Prom ranked supreme among their social contributions and remains a source of lovely memories.

As future graduates of Sterling the Juniors can reminisce about their past three years recalling impressions from the first chaotic year as Freshmen, when the halls were hopeless labyrinths and they eagerly strived to keep abreast Sterling's rapid pace. As Sophomores they gained the security and confidence necessary for their future years as Upperclassmen. This year brought the gradual demands of leadership and its privileges, the first college board exams, and the coveted class rings. With new depths of maturity and experience the Class of 1968 confidently awaits their next and final year as the reigning Seniors of Sterling High School.

As the Class of 1969 entered their second year at Sterling, they attained the confidence and security of being an integral, participating member in the Sterling family. With overwhelming enthusiasm and hard work, the Sophomores earned a reputation of spirit and success.

Under the sagacious supervision of Advisor Ralph Townsend, the Sophomores enjoyed a successful year, not only in noteworthy financial gains but in all social ventures. The unique "Goblins a Go-Go" dance was the first of a series of Sophomore activities including a stationery sale and spring dance.

The Class of 1969 easily recalls their Freshmen year of confusion, bewilderment over traditional procedures, and increased academic demands. Having survived their initial year at Sterling, the Sophomores have built upon this foundation of experience and eagerly participate in extracurricular activities. The spirit of 1969 is evident in all phases of Sterling life but notably in the participation and attendance of school activities and athletics.

These two transitional years have molded the Sophomores into a class of action and success with a bright future. They avidly anticipate their Junior year and the added authority of Upperclassmen.

FRESHMEN Function as a Unit and

The Class of 1970 was unexceptional in their entrance to Sterling; immediately lost in the lengths of corridors, bewildered by the numerous bells and rotating class schedules. All mishaps, jokes, and confusion were survived, however, as the Freshmen slowly became accustomed to the rapid pace of high school life, Friday afternoon pep rallies, and shortened lunch periods.

Under the experienced advisorship of Miss Theresa Pontarelli the Class of 1970 gradually began functioning as a unit and soundly established themselves in the Sterling community. They eagerly sold football Booster Badges, refreshments at wrestling matches, and operated the convenient "coat check-out" at basketball games; two of Sterling's more successful dances can be attributed to the Freshmen.

Initially ignorant of extracurricular activities the Class of 1970 enthusiastically participated in Freshman sports; and they show a great promise of athletic success as well as scholastic ability.

Eagerly confronting their next three years of high school, the Freshmen stand firm in the tradition and spirit of Sterling and anticipate their own development through the important years to come.

The principal objective of the Student Council is to promote a closer relationship between students and administration, to advocate participation in school activities, to recommend ways in which our school may be improved, and to stimulate and develop a healthy school spirit.

This year the Student Council sponsored its annual Homecoming Dance in the fall and the Farewell Dance in the spring. The school store was in operation throughout the school year for the convenience of all of the students.

Student Council also decided to purchase a plaque which will be inscribed with the names of alumni who die in defense of our country.

Plans have also been made for a beautification project designed to make the building more attractive.

Student Council representatives kept the student body well informed as to what took place at each meeting by way of minutes which were read in homerooms following the meeting.

Following Mr. Funk's appointment as principal, Mr. Robert Coudie assumed the responsibility as advisor of Student Council and was aided by Miss Catherine Werkheiser.

Homecoming Day events fell under the care of the Student Council as President Carl Dobbins escorts the 1966 Homecoming queen, Mary Anne Feuda.

An important project of the Student Council, the school store made available to the students needed items as displayed by Holly Tait and Kathy Mills.

To the student body, the '67 ACCOLADE is a collection of remembrances of the '66-67 school year. It contains pictures of the whole student body and faculty in the surroundings where they have spent the last one, two, three or four years. But does the student body, excluding the ACCOLADE staff, realize what goes into this book that they use to aid their memory in recalling past events? The yearbook consists of layouts, pictures and captions, write-ups, headlines, and a lot of typing and proofreading. The hours are long and the work can become tedious. Yet look at the finished product. This year's ACCOLADE is bigger than ever before with an opening section showing the many facets and phases of Sterling High School. The editors and staff worked hard to make the yearbook more to the students' liking. Their main goal was to improve last year's book which received so much praise.

The ACCOLADE could never have been published without the great help and guidance of Miss Wrigley, the advisor, who was always willing to help anyone who needed it, and the editor-in-chief, Jeanne Schneider, who spent many hours after school planning and putting the finishing touches to the yearbook.

A special note of thanks goes to Mr. Hunt and Jim Celia, who very willingly gave of their time and energy to take as many pictures as necessary to meet our deadlines.

Miss Wrigley, the ACCOLADE advisor, spent much time working on the '67 yearbook.

Can you find the real workers in this picture?

This year's Silver Scroll under the guidance of its new advisor, Miss Mary Ellen Matthews, accomplished more than ever before. Through many hours of planning, writing, editing and doing page layouts, all of which involved hard work, patience, and a sense of humor, the Scroll was issued six times during the year. As deadline time approached, Joan Laessig, the editor-in-chief, could be seen giving the reporters and the other editors that much needed last-minute rush call. Meeting the deadlines was often close but the paper did come out even if it meant having to report for work at seven-thirty in the morning—when everyone is full of ideas! Donuts supplied by Miss Matthews, however, helped the editors to open their eyes!

Improvement and new ideas for making the Silver Scroll more readable were always the goals of the staff. Press conferences, newspaper forums, and contests were attended by the editors to learn all the facets of newspaper circulation.

CHEERLEADERS

The cheerleaders under the management of Mrs. Hudson and Miss Graber planned a busy year. Besides cheering at pep rallies, football and basketball games, they also attended several competitions. Naomi Horton represented Sterling on February 11 at Delsea as the individual entry in competition and placed in the top five. The squad took second place. The entire varsity squad attended a competition at Deptford on February 25.

To continue Sterling's tradition of friendliness and goodwill toward other cheerleaders, a tea was given for the Overbrook cheerleaders before the big Thanksgiving game.

There is no doubt that Sterling's cheerleaders were a positive force in maintaining the spirit that makes Sterling #1.

Follow the leader.

A service group found behind the scenes is the hard working Stage Crew. They helped to "set the stage" for assemblies, concerts and plays. Working and repairing the lights in the auditorium, as well as working the curtains, all fall under their care. Also any props and scenery that need to be set up are taken care of by the Stage Crew.

An important service organization seen often around the school, yet not really known to the student body for all their services, is the A. V. A. They assist the teachers primarily by appropriating audio visual equipment for educational use in classrooms and also by working this equipment. The A. V. A. members also can be seen playing records at the dances, showing movies for the Boosters Club and taping various school activities, such as the Hootenany. They also take pictures at the sports events.

At the end of the day A. V. A. members James Solly and Paul Boody can be seen returning all equipment to the A. V. A. room until needed again, probably the next day.

The Future Teachers of America was designed to further interest those girls and boys who are considering teaching as a profession. Club activities acquainted the students with various phases of the profession and the educational opportunities for teacher training. The club looked into the many levels of teaching from kindergarten through college. Delving into the different aspects of each level proved interesting and informative.

SERVICE ORGANIZATIONS

Sterling's Library Council, under the guidance of Mrs. Simon, has provided the student body and faculty with a multitude of services and improved facilities, keyed to aid those interested in expanding their range of knowledge. Council members involved themselves with the daily routine of processing new books, keeping library materials in order, and checking out books for students, often assisted by library aides.

This year the Library Council once again presented their Book Fair for all students and faculty members intent on purchasing paperback copies of classics, adventures, and tragedies.

MAJORETTES

At any football game, pep rally, or pep parade the Majorettes, under the skillful guidance of Miss Camilli, proudly demonstrated their twirling abilities and pageantry skills. During the half-time shows and before the football games, they performed many steps and routines to the music while twirling their batons. All of this required many hours of practice after school, both by themselves and with the band.

COLOR GUARD

Leading the band down the field each pre-game and half time show, was the Color Guard. Supervised by Miss Camilli, they spent many hours each week perfecting their routines. Also during football season, the squad executed drills at the beginning of each pep rally and presented the flag while the band played "The Star Spangled Banner." The junior varsity squad carried the banner directly preceding the band at each football game and served as substitutes for the varsity squad.

MARCHING UNITS

The Marching Band of Sterling High, under the capable direction of Mr. James Maxwell, demonstrated precision and enthusiasm during the football season as they performed at both pre-game and half time shows. The highlight of the season was the Thanksgiving show. Many long hours of preparation and practice went into what would be their last performance of the season. The band took Sterling's pep song, "A Cheer for Sterling" and played it on a tour around the world. They visited the mountains of Germany and re-enacted one of the country's favorite pastimes, skiing on its slopes. They popped in on a Chinese game of chess while in the Orient and finally arrived in Spain where a bull fight was taking place. Drum Major Joe Samaritano was our matador and Carol Walker, the drum majorette, made a fine bull. At the end of the show the Homecoming queen was crowned as the band played "Miss America." Then, this year's hard-working Seniors were introduced. The continued interest and enthusiasm of the whole student body will help to improve and enlarge our marching band.

The members of the Silver Band, here performing at the Spring Concert, are the same group of students seen marching in the shows at the football games.

The Instrumental Music Department, directed by Mr. James Maxwell, held its first concert of the year on March 10th. Different moods were evoked as the band played pieces ranging from the light and carefree number, "The Flea And The Love Of Three Oranges," to Beethoven's "Egmont Overture" and "Finale from Symphony No. 1." There were selections from the musical "Oklahoma" and the television show "Mr. Lucky." The performing groups at this concert were the Advanced Wind Ensemble, comprised of the finest players Sterling has to offer; the Silver Band, totaling the eighty members who were seen marching on the football field earlier in the year; and two special groups, the Woodwind Quintet and the Brass Sextet.

The Orchestra which did not perform at the Instrumental Concert, but performs at various other concerts with the Chorale, had its first concert on December 19. This concert which was the first of the year for the new director, presented numbers reflecting the Christmas spirit. All of these performing groups deserve great praise for extremely entertaining shows, which involved long and hard work.

VOCAL MUSIC

New to Sterling this year, Mrs. Joan Pennington ably leads the Chorale in a selection at the Christmas concert.

As well as being a member of the Chorale, Jeanette Booth accompanied the group on the organ at their many performances.

The boy's quartet, the "Sterling Knightmares," consisted of four Senior members, Paul Kirvan, Robert McCormick, Tom Kaltenbaugh, and Maurice Valentine, who blended their voices in harmony to the songs from the "good old days."

The faces of the Chorale members express their concern before their first song at the Christmas concert; yet after the applause at the end of their selection, their expressions turned to smiles.

The Chorale and Girls' Chorus, supplemented by a boys' quartet, were the major groups included in the Vocal Music Department under the capable direction of their new advisor, Mrs. Joan Pennington. This department helped to provide the entertainment at the various concerts throughout the year. At the Christmas Concert the boys' quartet, The "Sterling Knightmares," highlighted the program with their renditions of songs from the "Barber Shop Quartet" days. Also, six girls combined their voices to sing at the concert and provided much enjoyment. As the only soloist at the concert, Jayne Miller sang the lovely song, "I Wonder As I Wander." These people also performed at the other concerts presented by the music department, and provided much enjoyment for the entire community.

DRAMA

Michele Yochum and Elaine Feuda act out parts of a skit presented by the Drama Club.

PUBLIC SPEAKING

Roy Campbell awaits his turn to debate as Bill Gerard speaks in the Public Speaking Club.

The Drama Club gave the students an opportunity to learn the techniques of the theater arts. Students participated in improvisations which helped them to be able to think and act on the spot. A number of skits were presented, students taking part at one time or another.

Helping the students write more effectively was the aim of the Creative Writing Club. The club was designed for students who were interested in developing abstract ideas in concrete terms. Many concepts and techniques were portrayed in literary terms for those students motivated toward writing.

The Public Speaking Club trained its members to use their voices freely and confidently. It gave the students a chance to stand on their own two feet and gave them practice in attaining the vocal excellence needed for effective communication.

CREATIVE WRITING

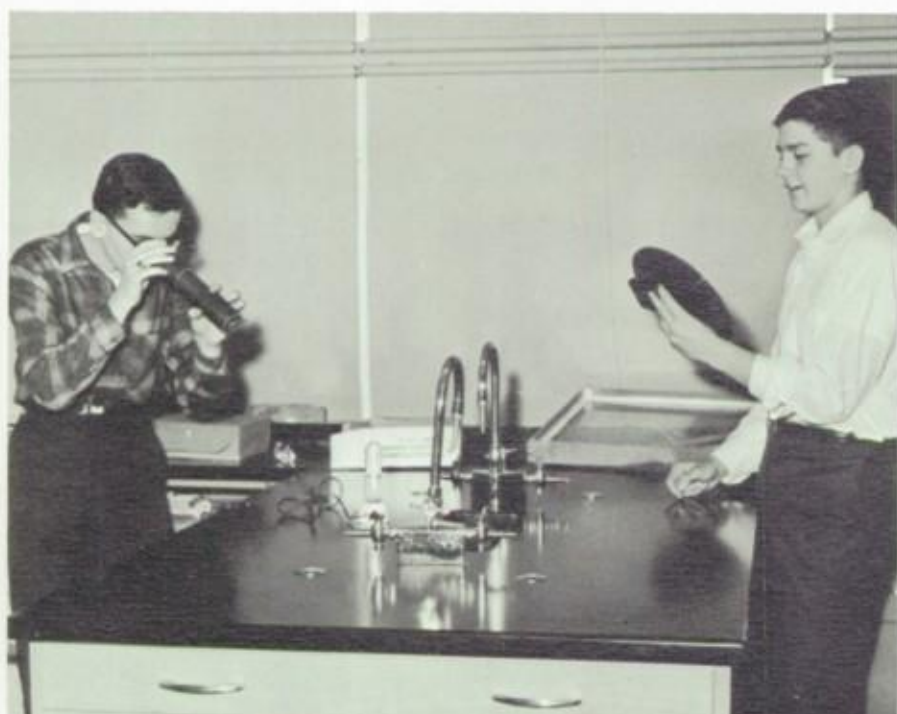

Creative Writing Club members Tammy Hendry, Boone Smith, Mr. Moschella, Joann Hokamp and Karen Crist listen to the theme Jay Mann has written.

BIOLOGY FIELD STUDIES

Mr. Winkie, Peggy Priestly and Dian Alyea look on as Kay McNamée and Sue McCosker explain the different forms of plant life in Biology Studies.

The function of the Biology Field Studies Club was to build and test equipment which is used to measure environmental factors. All of the equipment was then applied by the academic students in their courses.

Future chemists Andrew Butrica and Steve Houser work on an experiment with light.

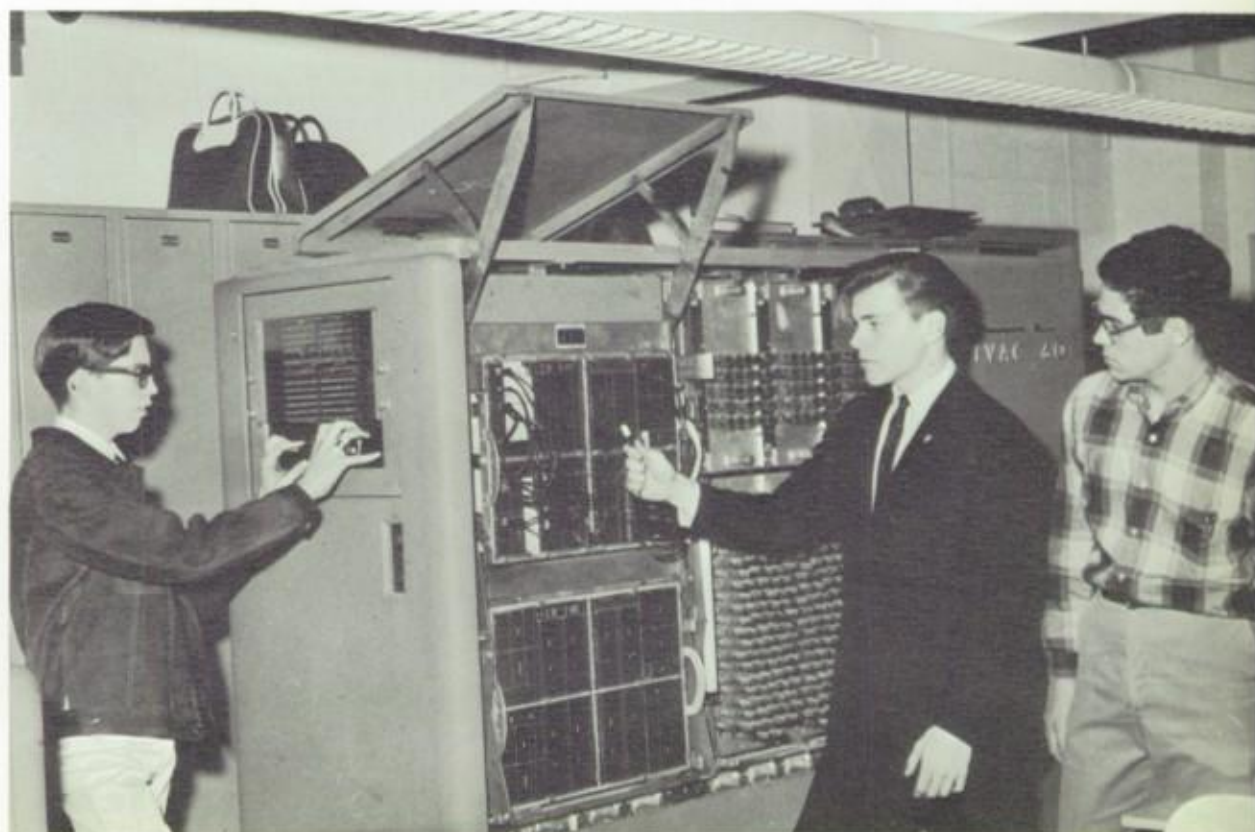

CHEMISTRY

The Chemistry Club gave each member a chance to create and develop his curiosity and alertness, the characteristics of a true chemist.

Bob Peckham, Bill Darmofal and Dan Doyle program the school computer.

COMPUTER

The members of the Computer Club made trips to different computer institutions to further their knowledge. Their main goal was to be able to maintain and program the school computer.

One of a secretary's duties, filing, is performed by Debbie Hines, Bette McKenzie and Jean Thoman.

FUTURE SECRETARIES

The Future Secretaries Club is designed to prepare girls for their future jobs in the business world. The scope of the club includes the proper skills, techniques, and personality traits required of them as secretaries.

The Typing Club aids academic students in learning how to type. They are taught various forms that will be useful for classwork both now and in college, such as formal and personal letters, manuscripts, and tables.

The students in the Stenography Club are given dictation in addition to their regular classwork so that they may become more proficient. With more skill in their field they will be able to look for better jobs.

TYPING

STENOGRAPHY

Joyce Zucchi and Sandy Scanlon run off copies of schedules that they have typed.

Linda Wray and Judy O'Connor study the keyboard and typing chart as Debbie Englerth watches.

Brigitte Schoen, Carla Dunlap, John Wolfinger and Virginia Heisler demonstrate their artistic abilities.

ART

The Art Club familiarized the students with the major art areas — painting, sculpture, design, drawing, ceramics, and printmaking—and gave them the opportunity to work in the medium of their choice.

Metal Club is designed to give the student a better understanding of metal and its uses in the home. Students made projects out of iron, steel, brass, and copper.

METAL

Mr. Daniel demonstrates to Bob McAlister and Dave Heisley the proper way to "tap mold" a brass cup.

GIRLS' CRAFTS

The girls in the Girls' Craft Club made small projects from wood. They learned how to use the shop machinery in the making of their projects.

Linda Slaughter and Kathy Mansi work on their projects.

EXERCISE & POSTURE

Warmup exercises help limber up Kathy Ambroselli and Dottie McNamee.

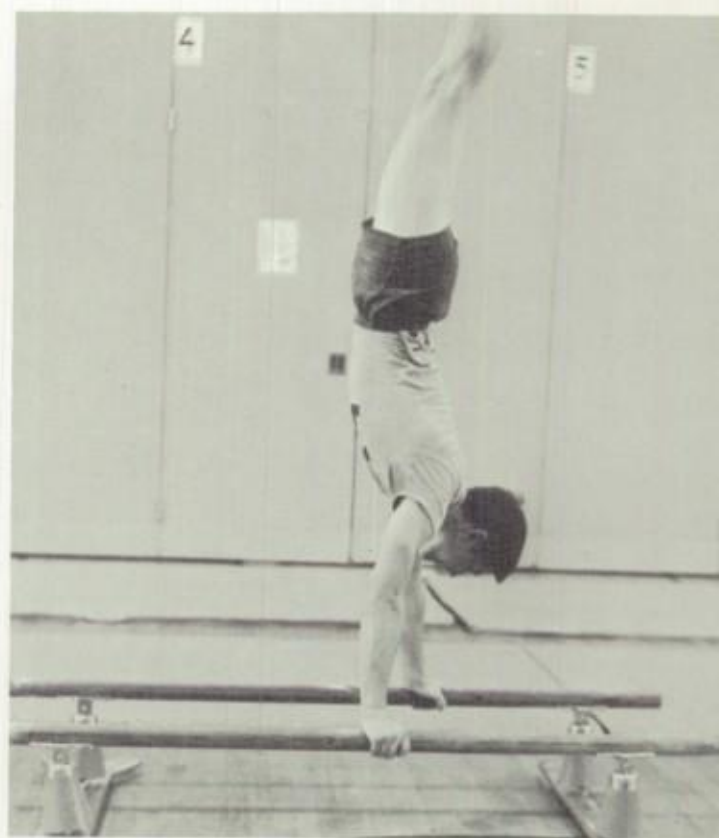

WEIGHTLIFTING

It takes a lot of strength to lift weights as John Annuzzi discovers.

Nick DiEttore shows Don Lair, John Cassady and Carl Arentzen how he throws a shot-put.

TUMBLING & BALANCING

Jim Lewis demonstrates his sense of balance and perfect form on the parallel bars.

The members of the Weightlifting Club worked to learn various types of lifts and how to improve their lifting style using Olympic weights.

The Track & Field Club viewed films of well-known track meets to observe the performances of famous trackmen. Then they analyzed their style to try to improve their own.

In the Exercise & Posture Club a program of general and specific exercises were taught for improving the students' posture, and promoting general good health.

The Tumbling & Balancing Club stressed the fundamental, intermediate and advanced skills of tumbling.

CHESS & CHECKERS

Dennis Waters and Norman Mitchell enjoy a good game of chess while Miss Sigafos seems to be beating Friendlloyd Hubbard at checkers.

The Chess Club was concerned with providing instruction in the fundamentals for beginning players, and sought to stimulate the more advanced chess players.

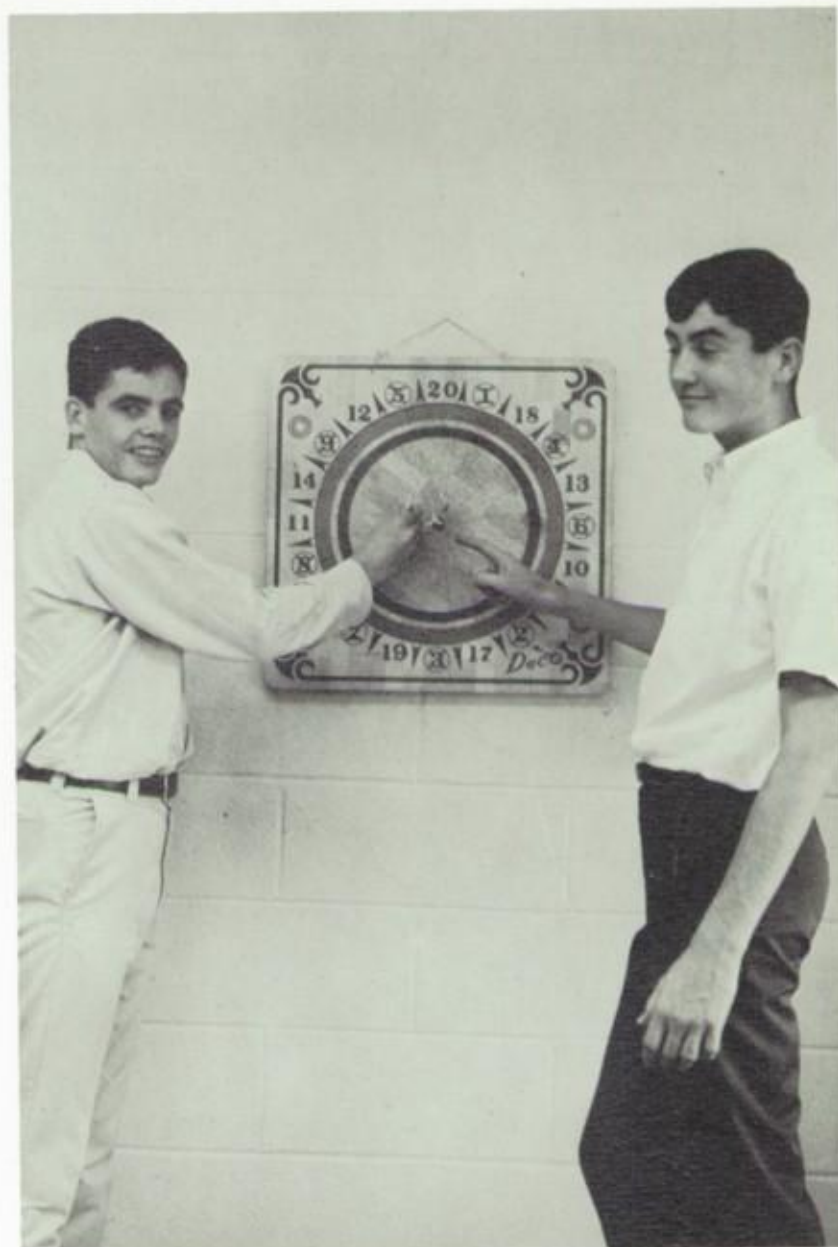

A checkers king of Sterling was crowned in the Checkers Club. Members competed in tournaments throughout the year and by the process of elimination selected the king.

Safety and throwing form was taught in the Darts Club. Leagues and teams were formed and the members were shooting to establish averages.

In the Ping Pong Club, matches were held each time the club met for just the fun of the game. As time went on, the members strived to improve their game.

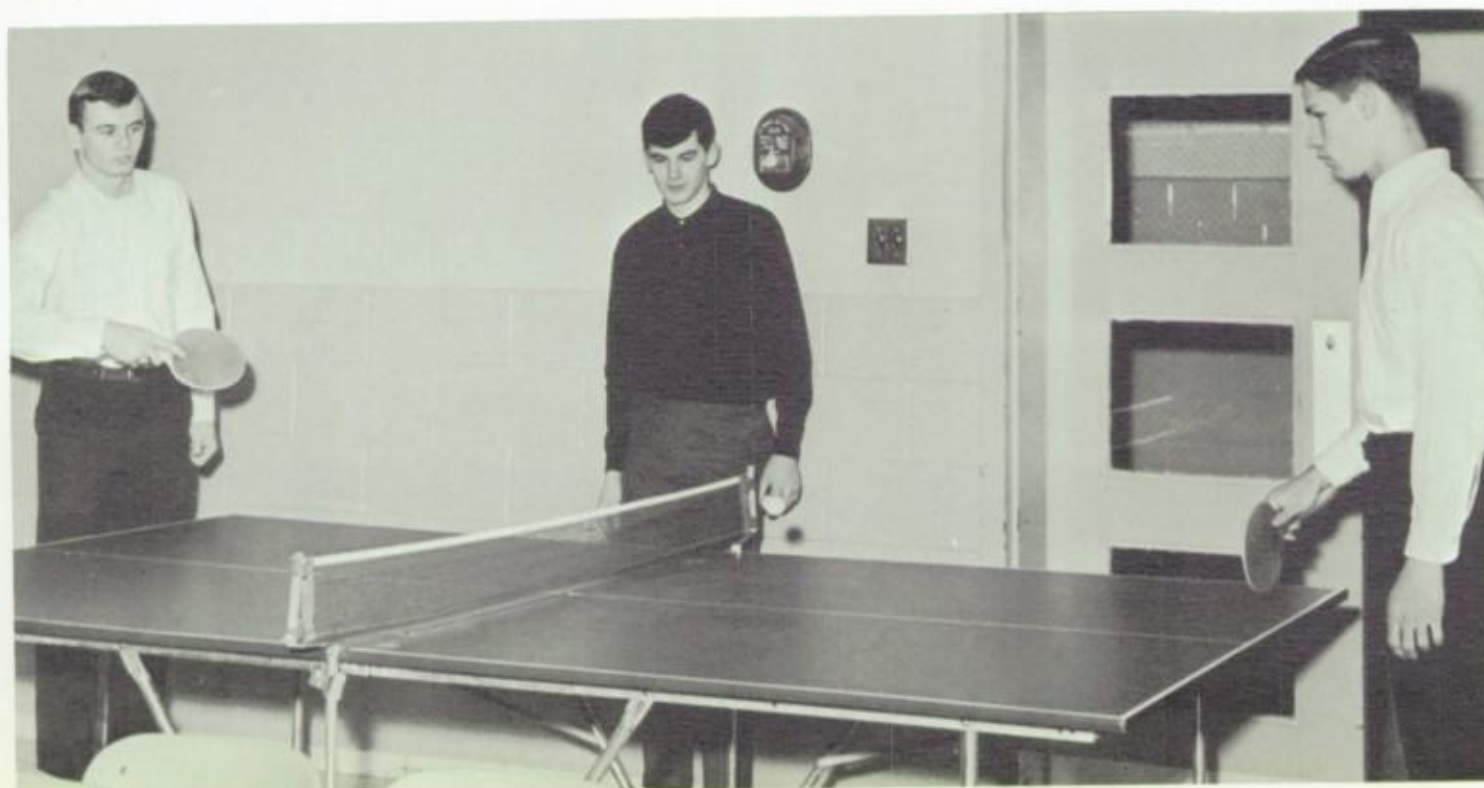

DARTS

Joyce Bitto and Stephen Interlante look over the lyrics to a popular folksong.

FOLKSINGING

The Folksinging Club was a new club this year. The purpose of this club was not to train students to sing, but rather to give students who are interested in singing folk songs the opportunity to meet with other students having the same interest.

Jack Connor concentrates on the ten pins before him as he lines up his shot.

BOWLING

The Bowling Club not only helped the members of the bowling team get more practice but also taught other members the technique of bowling a good game. Trophies were awarded to the winning team and outstanding members.

Jeannette Mattson, Larry Borman, Norman Disney and Art Edell play contract bridge.

BRIDGE

Much to the advantage of its members, the Bridge Club had a very small number of students. This gave them an opportunity to learn all of the skills of contract bridge. Beginners were taught the skills and rules of the game, and the knowledgeable player received a challenge to improve his skills through this club.

CHEFS'

In the Chef's Club Senior boys were taught the basic principles of cookery and nutrition. The club also helped the boys to enjoy cooking and to eat well-balanced meals.

The girls in the Sewing and Homemaking Club made projects for themselves and the home. They learned to use the sewing machine properly, as well as having discussions on room decoration and the making of handicrafts.

The Hairstyling Club aided young girls interested in learning new ways to style their hair. They discussed the "New Look" in hair styles and had guest speakers from various beauty schools.

SEWING & HOMEMAKING

D.E.C.A.

The Distributive Education Clubs of America is a national youth organization operating through the public schools to attract young people to careers in marketing and distribution. The purpose of D. E. C. A. is to develop a respect for education in marketing and distribution which will contribute to occupational competence, and to promote understanding and appreciation for the responsibilities of citizenship in our free, competitive enterprise system.

The Majorette Club was made up of varsity and junior varsity majorettes, as well as those interested in becoming majorettes. Fundamental twirling skills and marching steps were taught and once these were mastered, they progressed into more difficult and intricate routines and drills.

Lois Williams and Pat Bratty demonstrate a new twirling routine for Sue Barnard.

CHEERLEADING

In the Cheerleading Club, members of this year's squads taught the cheers and stunts to the girls who desired to try out for cheerleading. When spring tryouts came around, these neophytes really provided some keen competition for the regular squad members.

Diane Juchno shows Cindy Elkins the correct form used in a lunge as Fran Berman and Janet Williams look on.

FILMS

The Sports Films Clubs were to help spectators enjoy the games of baseball, basketball and football. Through the correct terminology and the explanation of the basic rules of the games, a deeper appreciation and understanding evolved. The Safety Film Club's purpose was to encourage a better attitude toward driving and the rules of the road.

Films Clubs members Jim Maesky, Dave Trueland, Steve Mitchell, Don Cullen and Betty Tait learn to run the projector.

ACTIVITIES

PEP RALLIES AND FUN DAY

On September 23rd, the Sterling Booster Club presented its annual parade to "kickoff" the 1966 football season. What started as complete chaos was organized into a long twisting chain, each link an important part of Sterling. Sterling's spirit was evident in the Seniors' float stating—"Sterling's Number One!" The Junior Class, not to be outdone, created a huge Knight's helmet to show their spirit. After the long march through the surrounding towns, the undaunted students continued to show their enthusiasm at the traditional bonfire.

However, this was only the beginning of the spirit shown by Sterling as the next day we had our first taste of victory with our win over Pemberton. The same day we participated in the Booster Club's first "Fun-Day." This provided the community with rides, numerous booths, games and contests, and a catered dinner.

HOMEcoming

November 26th marked the third annual Homecoming at Sterling. The five candidates—Donna Crawshaw, Andrea Davis, Mary Anne Feuda, Brenda Gerelus, and Jan Ann White—nominated by the Senior boys, were announced during the pep rally. The following day the five anxiously awaited the half-time of the Thanksgiving Day game with Overbrook. At this time the Sterling beauties were driven around the football field for everyone to see. Then they were escorted to the center of the field and presented with bouquets of roses. Mary Anne Feuda, upon receiving the blue-tipped roses, was then named Homecoming Queen for 1966 and crowned by last year's queen, Diana Roediger. The highlight of the occasion was the Homecoming Dance, which was given by the Student Council. Music was supplied by "The Emeralds" and the evening sped by, making what was once a wonderful dance become a happy memory to all who attended.

SNO-BALL

For Sterling High, Saturday evening, December 17th, was the climax of social functions for the year 1966. This traditional Christmas Ball Dance, second in importance only to the Prom, was sponsored by the Class of 1967. Couples danced to the enchanting tones of "Jonathan," while punch and cookies were available in the cafeteria.

The candidates for King and Queen, selected by the Senior Class, found their names on the eight Christmas stockings hanging on the chimney. When the stockings were full from ticket-stub votes, the Queen and King were announced as Mary Anne Feuda and Pete Coleman. The next dance was led by the couple, making the "Sno-Ball" a successful and fun-filled evening for all!

ASSEMBLIES

Ed Schetter demonstrates the art of Yoga.

Presenting the girls' bowling team's awards is Miss Bidzila.

The familiar picture of the Seniors proceeding to their seats, as the rest of the student body stand to honor our Alma Mater, is the beginning of each Sterling assembly. The auditorium is the scene of this activity, although the gym is used for the special award assemblies.

Students listened intently and in amazement as Ed Schetter demonstrated the simple exercises of Yoga. They also were given a chance to laugh when three volunteers stepped forward to receive a lesson. A question period provided the opportunity for students to ask about the subject.

A relaxing assembly was provided by a talented accordion player, Donald Hulme. With outstanding selections, he was entertaining but also informative as he discussed his new system of amplifying.

In addition, the student body attended an assembly for the installment of their individual class and Student Council officers and representatives. Then a completely unique assembly was enjoyed by all when a clown appeared to teach us his art.

Although these assemblies during the course of the year were very entertaining, they also provided knowledge and developed interest in the subject topic.

"What Are You Going to Call Your Pretty Little Baby?" is sung by the Girls' Chorus.

The Sterling High School Music Department highlighted this year with four concerts given by the various music groups.

Their first presentation, "The Songs of Christmas," enlivened the season with several selections of vocal and instrumental music and a combination of both for the finale, "The Song of Christmas." The Orchestra opened the concert with a group of interesting and lively holiday tunes. Included in this group were, "Angels We Have Heard On High," "What Child Is This?" and "Babes In Toyland" from the "March of the Toys." Then the Chorale, under direction of Mrs. Joan Pennington, presented a selection of enchanting Christmas songs. They entered as they sang the lovely hymn, "O Come All Ye Faithful." To vary the evening's selections, the Senior boys' quartet, more familiarly known as the "Sterling Knightmares," entertained with the song, "Go Tell It On The Mountain."

Other groups included the Girls' Chorus, the Girls' Sextet, and the Boys' Octet. Jayne Miller, as a soloist, also contributed her talent to transform the evening into a fantasy of Christmas music.

Later in the year, an Instrumental Concert was presented by the department under the direction of Mr. James Maxwell. Several select groups were featured, including the Silver Band, the Brass Sextet, the Woodwind Quintet and the Advanced Wind Ensemble. The evening commenced with the overture, "The Barber of Seville," and was followed by selections from "The Student Prince." The Silver Band continued to display their many talents by playing a march from "The Love Of Three Oranges." Next, the Brass Sextet very capably exhibited their talents with three selections that included, "Impressions of a Parade" and "A Day at the Camptown Races." Rendition of "March of the Siamese Children" from "The King And I" was followed by "Ascot Gavotte" from "My Fair Lady" and both selections aided in creating a warm musical atmosphere and enhancing the enjoyment of the evening. As a finale to the concert, the Advanced Wind Ensemble performed "Finale from Symphony No. 1" and selections from "Oklahoma" and other musicals; all of which contributed to the musical wonderland that was created during this truly enjoyable evening.

All of these groups performed again at two additional concerts in the spring which rounded out the music program for the year.

A medley of folk songs was sung by Jane Ann White as she accompanied herself on the guitar.

Dinner music was provided by Jo Ann Duvall and Louise MacIntire.

SPAGHETTI DINNER

Was the entertainment that bad?

Now it's the Seniors turn to sit down and enjoy their delicious spaghetti.

For many, Saturday, February 4, 1967, seemed to be just an ordinary day; but to a number of workers who appeared in Sterling's cafeteria at 8:30 A.M., it was the beginning of the annual Senior Spaghetti Dinner.

From tons of spaghetti, meatballs, lettuce and bread, over one thousand meals were served to satisfied customers.

To add to their enjoyment, Master of Ceremonies George Shellem had organized diversified entertainment for the evening. Original dance routines by Joan Haggimisios and Cathi Bannan enabled customers to forget about food for awhile. Changing the pace, Jayne Miller sang a solo and there was a medley of folk songs by Jane Ann White. Bill Darmofal returned this year to entertain with a variety of accordion selections, and the "Knightmares" gave their version of "Sentimental Journey." Dinner music was provided by Jo Ann Duvall and Louise MacIntire, who played piano selections from various Broadway musicals. The entertainment helped establish the friendly atmosphere of the candelight dinner.

Finally, the last customer having departed, the weary Seniors heartily finished their own dinner, ending the successful but tiring occasion.

Customers came to enjoy a truly outstanding meal.

15 meatballs done—now that only leaves 2,985.

Sterling's "Knightmares" entertain with "Sentimental Journey."

Sterling's answer to the "Supremes," includes Mrs. Morgan, Miss Leasure and Miss Kelly.

Mr. Wiltsee and Mrs. Holston add to the scenic background during a specialty number.

"You stood and you watched as my baby left town!"

HOOTENANNY

Appropriately dressed for "The Streets of Laredo" are Mr. Wirtz and Mr. Townsend.

He'll NEVER get away.

On February 18, to the enjoyment and delight of friends and students of Sterling, the faculty presented a two and a half hour variety show.

Sponsored by the Sterling Education Association for the benefit of the Scholarship Fund, talent not usually shown in class was displayed by numerous teachers. Under the able management of Miss Bramente and Miss Matthews and with the unselfish assistance of Donna Brudzinski, Jane Ann White and Tom Kaltenbaugh, the evening was one that both the viewers and the participants enjoyed.

The problems of a teacher were portrayed by Miss Pontarelli in "Teacher's Lament" and by Miss Kelley, Miss Leasure and Mrs. Morgan in "Queen of the School." Other trio combinations included Mr. Hunt, Mr. Taylor and Mr. DeLucas singing, "Blowing in the Wind," and "M.T.A." with Mr. Hunt, Mr. Kerschner and Mr. DeSoy.

Solos that highlighted the evening included Mr. Croud's rendition of "The Reverend Mr. Black," "Stewball" by Mr. DeLucas and Miss Bidzila's folk song, "There is a Ship."

Outstanding selections that highlighted the evening included "Mariah" sung by Mr. Taylor and "Until It's Time To Go" by Miss Kelly.

Changing the pace were Miss Werkheiser's performance of "Rocka My Soul" and Mr. Moschella's singing of "Matilda" in which they encouraged the audience to participate.

Duets included Mrs. Pennington and Mr. DeLucas singing "Four Strong Winds" and Mr. Townsend and Mr. Wirtz who presented "The Streets of Laredo" dressed in Western costumes. Sterling's version of the Smothers Brothers was comprised of Mr. Goudie and Mr. Harris. Next a dance routine was performed by several "unidentified" scarecrows.

Mr. Maxwell's jub band—Miss Pontarelli, Mrs. Heal, Mrs. Simon, Miss Camilli, Mr. Dellaria, Mr. Daniel, Mrs. Zivkovich and Mr. Wiltsee—played "I Like Mountain Music" on homemade instruments.

Hidden talents in such diversified fields were presented so well that we hope this will become an annual affair that will be looked forward to with much excitement.

Mr. Taylor's presentation of "Maria" highlighted the evening's entertainment.

Lively and entertaining, Tommy Kaltenbaugh, Jane Ann White and Donna Brudzinski perform two sides of "Blue."

Backstage, Dottie McNamee prompts the cast on their lines.

"What's the matter, Tommy? Please tell me!"

On April 7 and 8, 1967, the Senior Class retained tradition by sponsoring the Senior Play, this year entitled The Night Is My Enemy by Fred Carmichael. Under the direction of Miss Bramante and Miss Matthews, this three act mystery, set in the Fontaine mansion somewhere in the New England Coast, was presented to crowded audiences.

Roane Shepperley, blinded in an accident when she was three, has been taken in by the Fontaines following the death of her mother. Finding love, affection, and care in the Fontaine home, she is also constantly reminded she is different than everyone else.

Gerald Clayton, a young and handsome cousin of Mrs. Fontaine comes and almost succeeds in allowing Roane to forget she is blind. But the death of a lame girl on the cliff near the Fontaine's home and the inspector's insistence it was murder frightens the entire household back to reality. The gardener's son, Tommy Biller, is a boy who lives in a world of his own. When he tries to tell Roane about the mysterious death, and is also murdered, Roane is plagued by her inability to see.

The next night finds Hester in bed with a headache and Roane is left alone with Tessie, the maid. Tessie, checking on Hester, leaves Roane downstairs where she attacked by the murderer. Her cries for help bring Tessie and cause him to flee. With a storm approaching, Tessie goes into town for help. Roane is left at the mercy of the killer who reappears. At that point events began to take place at a rapid pace until the killer was caught and his punishment decided.

This thrilling mystery kept the audience in suspense and was a change of pace from the usual comedies presented at S.H.S.

Seated: Barbara Daisey, Joan Laessig, Jerry Cullen, Linda Leickel, Jim Pridgeon. Standing: Teri Burns, Goody Morgan, Tom Kaltenbaugh, Jeanne Schneider, Dennis Foley.

Anthony DeLucas

The football season marked Sterling's first year as a full-fledged member of the Colonial Conference in football. The "Silver Knights" posted a 3-4 record in the league, earning a fourth place tie with Woodbury behind Collingswood, Paulsboro and Haddonfield. The Knights split their two contests outside the league to finish with an overall log of four wins and five losses, a commendable record when you consider the calibre of the opposition.

Johnny Miller got Sterling off to a flying start by returning the opening kickoff of the season 87 yards for a touchdown. Two touchdown passes by Connie Herrmann to Ken Pfafman and Bob Seelhorst helped the Knights shut out Pemberton in the opener, 20-0. In a game played in the pouring rain at Collingswood, the Knights were defeated by the Colls, 6-34. The Colls went on to go undefeated and ranked as the number one team in South Jersey.

The Knights' offensive drives were thwarted by fumbles and they dropped a frustrating, 0-13 decision to Woodbury in their home opener.

The Knights got back on the winning side with a 13-0 victory at Audubon. Pete O'Day recovered a fumble in mid-air and ran 55 yards for one score and Pete Coleman plunged two yards for the other touchdown.

The strong running of Connie Herrmann, Pete Coleman and Irv Cooper and a scoring toss from Herrmann to Don Cullen resulted in a 26-13 Knight victory over the Hawks from Haddon Township.

The Knights almost pulled off an upset over seventh-ranked Haddonfield, dropping a 12-14 decision in a hard fought contest. Touchdown runs by Herrmann and Coleman gave Sterling a 12-7 halftime advantage, but the Haddons' two extra points provided the margin of victory.

Sterling then dropped a 7-21 decision to a strong Paulsboro team. Pete Coleman's touchdown run accounted for Sterling's only score. Tom Greenaway accounted for Sterling's first extra point by placement.

Trailing 7-0 after the first quarter at Haddon Heights, the Knights came roaring back to a 14-7 score on the strength of a beautiful 54-yard gallop by swivel-hipped Irv Cooper and a 52-yard jaunt by Pete Coleman. Tom Greenaway made good on both conversion attempts.

The Homecoming Game on Thanksgiving found Sterling playing host to its traditional rival—the Overbrook Rams, 1966 Olympic Conference Champions. Trailing 12-7 at halftime, the Knights came up with a blocked punt for a safety and a dazzling 25-yard touchdown by Connie Herrmann on a broken play for eight second-half points but the Rams prevailed 15-25 to complete a perfect 9-0 season and earn the ranking as the sixth best team in South Jersey.

Coach Robert Wirtz and Co-Captains Jim Maesky and Mike Kelly accept trophy from Camden County Meet Director Preston Gunning.

This year's cross-country team completed another fine season in winning ten of its twelve starts in dual meets. In the championship meets Sterling displayed its strength by finishing second in the South Jersey Open and second in the Colonial Conference run. The winning of the Camden County title for the third consecutive year and finishing fourth in the Group III State meet were highlights of the season. Leading this fast team were Mike Kelly and Jim Maesky, the co-captains, who were followed closely by Carl Dobbins, the remaining senior, in the top five. The co-captains were honored by being placed on the All-Colonial Conference team. Mike has brought great honor to the team by finishing second in all of the championship meets including the State meet.

This team has earned victory and was very disappointed when they were not able to win the State Championship.

HOCKEY

This year's varsity hockey team was a group of determined well-drilled, and spirited girls. Although their record was not too impressive, (0-6-1), they still have shown great improvement in their defensive play. The girls held their opponents to an average of less than three goals per game, which shows in itself the improvement.

The prospect of a good team in the future is very certain, as Mrs. Morgan had six sophomores in her starting lineup. With the experience these girls received this year and what they will get next year, they should indeed prove to be tough opponents for any Colonial Conference team. In addition there will be some fine junior varsity girls coming up. Next year should be their year.

Soccer, a new sport at Sterling this year, is a fast-moving game of speed, skill, and determination. It differs from more familiar sports such as football and basketball in that one uses his head and feet more often than his hands. This is a game where size, that is, height or weight, is not the prime requirement.

The team as a whole was inexperienced, but, under the leadership of Coach Barry Wray and their consistent teamwork, they produced one win, four losses, and one tie. While this record does not look too impressive, one must remember that this is the first year for soccer at Sterling.

The team had two fine starters in Ed Lukoss and Jim Lewis who are Seniors. However, among the team's future strength will be its offense, with Junior Bill Lees, and Sophomores Tom Gallagher, Mike Kuzniar, Ralph Stoklosa, and Tom Wynne. Just as important is the defense, with Junior Bob Long, and Sophomores Wilson Mathis and Ben Heritage fighting to prevent a score from the opposing teams. We can expect even greater things from these fellows next year.

... that's using your head!

Mr. Wray (Coach) and Co-Captains Ed Lukoss and Jim Lewis planning game strategy.

BOWLING

In only its third year of competition, the Boys Varsity ranked sixth in the annual district roll-offs of all South Jersey, with George Plotts awarded a trophy for a high series of 581. In the league competition the varsity ranked third after defeating Pennsauken in a 3-0 play-off. Then in the South Jersey Interscholastic Bowling Tournament, Bill Hickman received a trophy for a high series of 606.

Finally, the Girls Varsity, although it did not receive a place in the roll-offs, had a fair season. They show evidence of having a strong team next year.

BASKETBALL

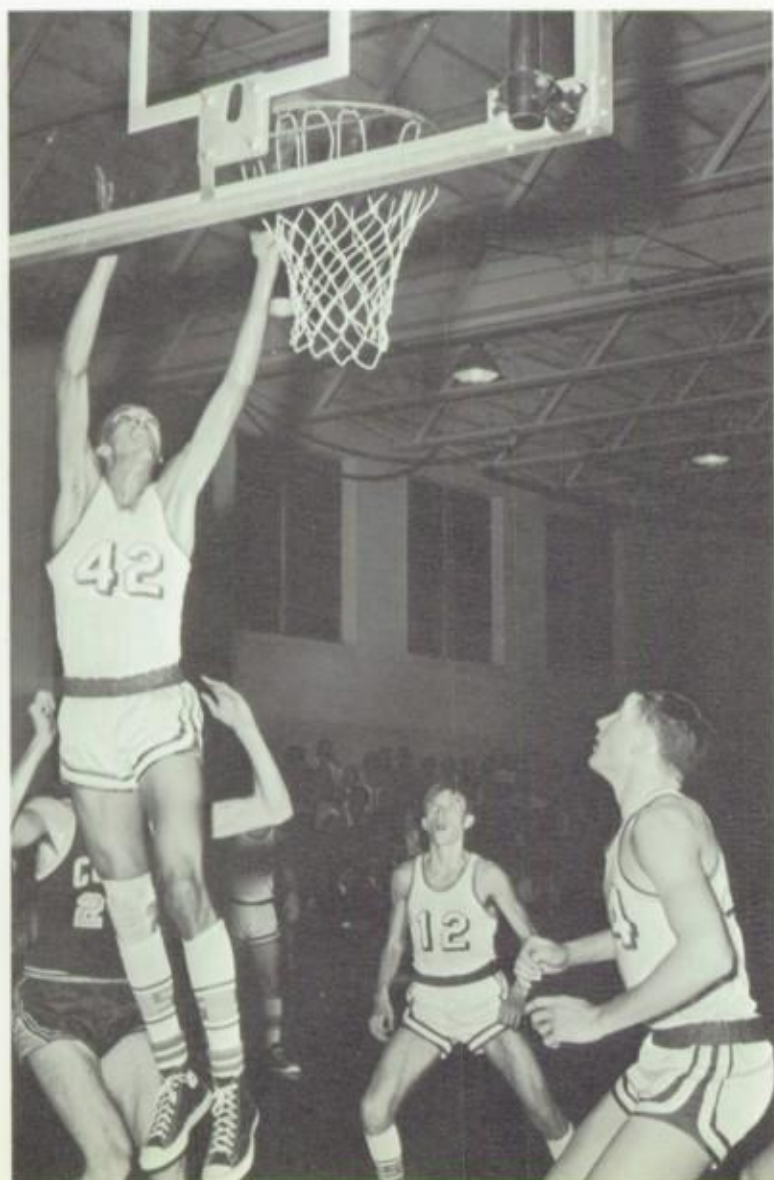

The Silver Knights had another fine year in Colonial Conference basketball, although not as successful as last year. The final record compiled was 19 wins and 6 losses and a 14 and 2 record in Colonial Conference competition. The team came in second in Colonial Conference due to two losses to Collingswood, who took the crown this year. After a regular season record of 16 and 5, the Knights entered in the N.J.S.I.A.A. post-season tournament. They defeated Haddonfield and Triton Blue but lost to Burlington in a very close game, in which the score changed hands numerous times during the first three quarters. Burlington finally squeezed out the victory, 52-42.

Nonetheless, the team, led by captain Mike Kelly, played great basketball this season. With a highly talented squad of underclassmen, they will continue to demonstrate the skill and determination which have become a trademark of Sterling High Silver Knights.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Sterling's varsity girls' basketball team, under the fine coaching of Miss Kelly, had a season which was far below that which was hoped for. The girls had high hopes for a successful season when they won both their scrimmages. However, as the season progressed, the team, led by tri-captains Joyce Sharp, Joyce Bennett, and Candi James, was not quite so successful as anticipated. Many of their games were lost by only a few points.

Nonetheless, the girls worked hard and should be commended for their spirit. Although the season was unsuccessful, the team's underclassmen show much promise for the coming season.

Mr. Marguglio and Mr. Winkie (coaches) watch as the Silver Knights struggle against another opponent.

Sterling High School has a lot to look forward to in wrestling. The team's record this year as a whole was not too good, but new talents have been recognized. The team made some good showings this year. The first was against Glassboro where the Knights staged a successful attack. Led by Senior Captains Ed Lukoss and Bob Skinner, the team won 29-21. Jerry Cullen, Nick DiEttore, Joe Pewdo and Joe Romano also scored wins. Pins were recorded for Jerry Cullen, Ed Lukoss and Bob Skinner.

Their next good showing was against Clayton. Although they did not end up on top, Joe Romano, a sophomore, showed good talent when he pinned his opponent in the second period at the 136-pound class. Seniors Jerry Cullen, Nick DiEttore, Art Edell, Ed Lukoss and Bob Skinner came through with wins. Edell pinned his man in the third period.

Next, Sterling beat Woodrow Wilson 29-21. Joe Romano showed to be a good prospect for the future when he won again. Al Pratico pinned his man to help the Knights go on to victory.

Next year the team should show great improvement in their record and should follow the Sterling tradition of winning. Coaches Mr. Winkie, Mr. Marguglio and Mr. Wray have done an outstanding job in bringing along the younger wrestlers.

GYMNASTICS

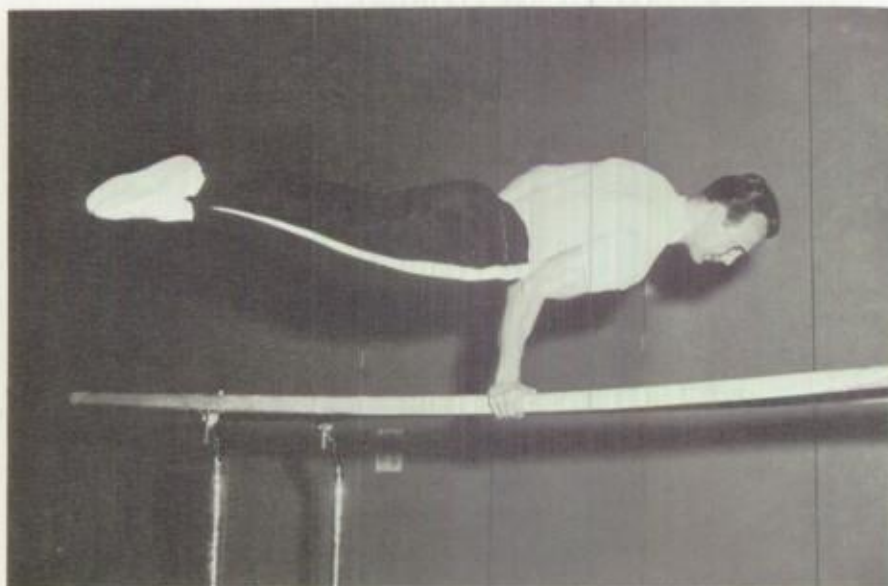

In its second year of competition, Sterling's gymnastic team, coached by Mr. Bella, earned one lone victory over Oakcrest while competing against very strong schools like Palmyra, Pennsbury, and Cherry Hill, which dominated South Jersey gymnastics.

The team's three Seniors—Jim Pridgeon, still rings; Gary Knight, still rings and parallel bars; and Jim Lewis, tumbling and long horse—paced the team in its meets.

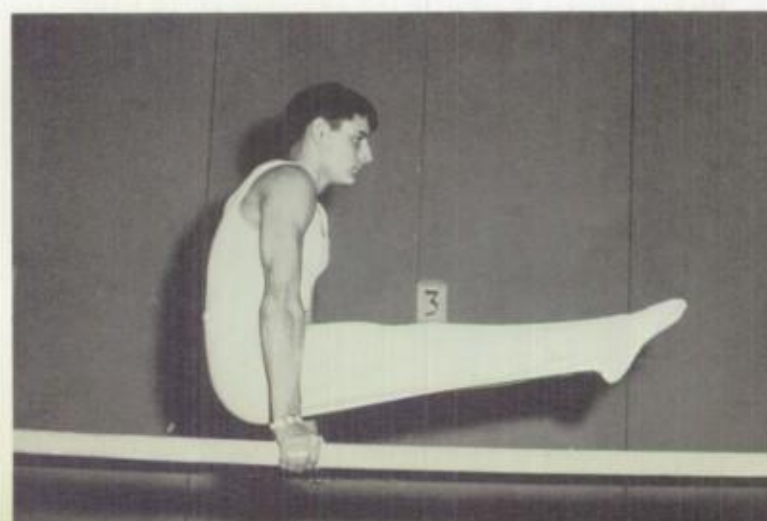

The future strength of the team, however, lies in its Sophomores. George Trout, Jim Celia, Jim Bastelica, Bob Ward, George DiFlavis, and Len Hull will be counted on heavily in the next two years. Bob Jones, another Sophomore, was unfortunately injured in competition and was missed by the team in the last four meets. Nonetheless, these boys are going to give Sterling a name to be respected in gymnastics.

Golf is another new sport at Sterling this year. Under the coaching of Mr. Marguglio, the team will be looking forward to a successful season and will count on its Seniors Marshall Adams, Frank D'Amico, Lew Gorman and Bob Simpson to pace the team. The team's underclassmen should continue to have success in golf as in other sports.

BASEBALL

This is the second year in the Colonial Conference for the Silver Knights. The team should prove to be a good competitor since several varsity performers are returning. The strength of the team should be its well-rounded attack, defense, and pitching. Seniors Steve Mitchell, Ken Pfafman, and Dave Pyne should provide a bulk of the hitting. Pete Coleman and Don Cullen should help complete an already strong defense while Senior left-hander Rob McCormick and Junior right-hander Connie Herrmann should provide a tough one-two pitching combination.

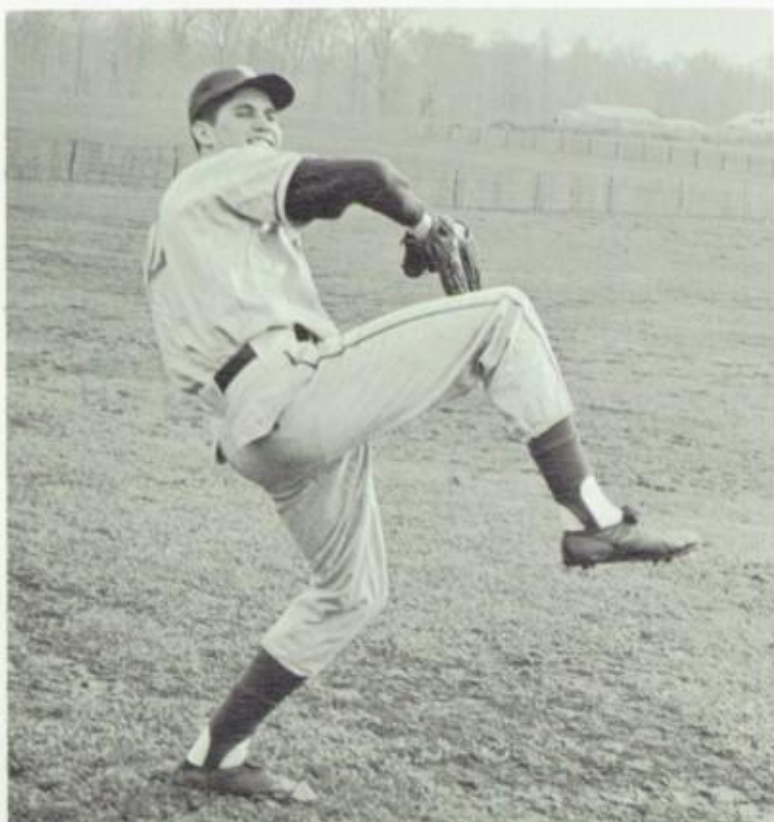

The team was again fortunate to have Mr. Harris as coach. With his experience and the inherent ability of the players, it should make a hard combination to beat.

TRACK

The indoor track team's main purpose was to train boys to compete in large championships such as those held at Glassboro State College, Camden Convention Hall and Pennsauken. Two Sterling boys brought home medals from the South Jersey Championship this year. Carl Arentzen placed third in the mile run and Bob McPaul placed third in the high hurdles. Other members, Ray Martin, Carl Dobbins, Gabe Coll, Jim Murphy, and Stan Przygoda, although they didn't place in the top three, did outstanding jobs.

The outdoor track team consists mostly of underclassmen who predict strong future seasons for Sterling against tough Colonial Conference competition. Leading the running attack this year will be Bob McPaul, Carl Dobbins and Carl Arentzen. Our strong contenders in field events are Bob Brashear, Gabe Coll, Nick DiEttore, Don Lair, Stanley Przygoda and Charles Butler. With potential like this, Sterling can expect a successful track season this year as well as for coming seasons.

At the South-Jersey Indoor Track Championships, Senior Bob McPaul placed third in the high hurdles.

TENNIS

This is the first year for tennis at Sterling and the teams will face opposition from schools with more experience. Already the teams have lost two hard-fought matches with Group IV schools, Millville and Cherry Hill, but has shut out Haddon Heights 5-0. With expert coaching by Miss Coles and Mr. Croud, the teams can look forward to more successful matches as the season progresses.

Seniors on the tennis team pause for a little instruction from their coach.

SOFTBALL

Sterling's girls softball team will face quite tough competition this season from Colonial Conference schools as well as other South Jersey schools. With the coaching genius of Miss Kelly, the girls so far have soundly trounced Triton Blue, a Group III school, and Haddon Township, last year's champions, but have lost to Lenape, a tough Group IV school. Pacing the team will be its Seniors: Joyce Bennett, Joyce Sharp, Betty Ann Tait, and Carol Walker. The main strength of the team lies in its underclassmen, and outstanding ones to be counted on are Juniors Sue Geis and Janice Rauer, and Sophomores Sue McCosker and Fran Paul. Look for the team to have a great season this year with equally great seasons to come.

Oops!!!! The ball is supposed to go out, not up!
